

What Staffing Industry Professionals Think — We Want to Know.

NETWORKING | RELATIONSHIPS | COME FULL CIRCLE

If a new opportunity is not what you want, your knowledge of the market has collateral value.

We are responsible for developing superior knowledge about working professionals and markets. We research companies and people. Then, we ensure our client business partners are acquainted with the best talent in the industry and act accordingly. We focus on understanding people as individuals—developing a real, relationship connection with them.

Everyone knows that networking matters. Research suggests that successful business professionals dedicate more time to networking activities and more time to communication than their less successful counterparts do. It is through their networks that people learn, create, energize one another and open channels to new opportunities.

Network your everyday contacts with us and through your network, you can:

- Lend a hand in career development—confidentially or as a trusted contact
- Hear about the great opportunities in your market
- Get introduced to other professionals
- Be on the inside track of local market competitive intelligence
- Discover inside connections that can help you land jobs and meet influential industry leaders
- Share a percentage of Placement Fees

We welcome referrals of Staffing Industry leaders, as well as Client Business Partners in need of our services, and we reward our referral sources!

Earn referral bonuses!

You are eligible for our 1-Source Referral Bonus*. 1-Source pays 1% of the Placement Fee to the referral source. If the Placement Fee to our Client Business Partner is $15,000, you earn $150; a fee of $20,000 pays $200! There is no limit on the number of referral bonuses that you can earn—the more candidates and clients that you refer, the more bonuses you can potentially enjoy.

Networking with referrals may be the foundation for our new relationship, but the process of building upon that foundation comes full circle when the time to consider new opportunities or initiate a search for a top performer comes about. Then, we come back to our starting point and developing a real relationship connection fosters for us a mutually supportive professional connection.
